Introduction

The final stage of the project “Refugee and Host Education and Social Inclusion” (RHESI), which was carried out from 06/01/2022 to 09/30/2023, has come to an end.

Like the previous ones, the final stage was aimed at: providing assistance to Ukrainian refugees who fled from hostilities in their native country. Unfortunately, these horrific events in Ukraine affected not only adults but also children. Children are the most vulnerable category of the population. The stress and psycho-emotional problems they experience cannot be described in words. Therefore, within the framework of the project, “Refugee and Host Education and Social Inclusion” (RHESI), it was decided to focus specifically on assistance and support for refugee children, as well as children of vulnerable members of the local population.

As part of the final stage of the project, assistance was provided in the form of: various master classes, children's towns, a land of knowledge, tent camps, guitar courses, vacation schools, and cooking classes.

As part of the final stage of the project, assistance was provided in the form of: various master classes, children's towns, a land of knowledge, tent camps, guitar courses, vacation schools, and cooking classes.

At each of these events, children could escape from everyday problems and participate in various activities aimed at gaining new knowledge, entertainment and fun, as well as social integration into Moldovan society, since children of the local population were present at each activity. There was also an abundance of various snacks at each event. Such as: cotton candy, popcorn and other sweets. Children could have fun playing various team and sports games, jumping on a trampoline and playing with inflatable balls.

In total, ADRA Moldova with the support of MFAT New Zealand provided assistance to 2,044 children. This is a very important, meaningful and useful contribution to the lives of children and their parents who are going through very difficult times. Conclusion

As part of the project "Refugee and Host Education and Social Inclusion", children had the opportunity to participate in exciting adventures and activities aimed at the social integration of refugee children and vulnerable members of the local population. The project had a strong positive effect and influence on both children and their parents. Since parents often participated in various activities with their children. This united and strengthened the connection between children and their parents, and also provided an opportunity to make new acquaintances and significantly strengthen existing connections and acquaintances.

All of the above classes, courses and activities were very useful and left a deep feeling of gratitude, appreciation and satisfaction for the care and attention that they so needed. 81.8% of beneficiaries indicated that they were very satisfied and 14.9% indicated that they were satisfied. Which gives a total of 95.9% of the surveyed beneficiaries noted a high level of satisfaction after participating in recreational and social integration activities. The children were able to switch their attention from problems and grief to something useful and creative.

Thanks to the "Refugee and Host Education and Social Inclusion" project, beneficiaries were able to unite, make new connections and significantly strengthen existing ones, which has a very positive effect on the effective integration of beneficiaries into society.
